Dear Friends, Well wishers and all Devotees:

We want to congratulate our community in bringing our temple to fruition. It has been a true honor and a great privilege for us to be involved and to have the opportunity to serve in this effort. It would not be possible without the tireless effort of all Committee members and volunteers.

This began as a concept over thirty years ago and ‘Our Temple’ is indeed a reality and a true testament to the will of our community and the generosity of all. Many amongst us continue to offer the time, effort, financial support and unwavering volunteer spirit. All of us need to pause, reflect and thank them all. As you know, some will never see their name inscribed or mentioned but remain the pillars of our volunteer group.

Over the weekend of May 21, 2010 we want to welcome everyone to the ‘Sthapana Mahotsav’ to install the Vighrahas. This event will serve as the formal opening of the temple. We want to take this opportunity to thank all of our supporters that have contributed towards the ceremony and the brochure.

The installation of ‘Mahavir Bhagwan’ will occur on June 20, 2010 and the Jain Samaj is planning this event.

Temples are often considered as a place of ‘religious worship’ alone. In our case, it is our hope that you will choose to use it as a ‘focal point’. We can gather, promote religious worship and thought, meditate, learn, practice music and art to include dance, listen to discourses and at times just to come and enjoy a peaceful environment. Our youth will benefit by meeting here, doing service projects, tending to the grounds and participating in indoor games in addition to attending Sunday school.

As we go forward we will need many volunteers to provide services and ‘seva’ to keep the premises clean and to provide a continuing support structure to facilitate the task of fulfilling our mission and vision. We are confident that you will come forward to assist in this endeavor.

To accomplish our many goals, we will need continued clarity of vision, leadership and financial support to service our monthly expense/cost. We are grateful to all our members and devotees for giving us this opportunity. We want to thank all the founders and the committee members that have time and again provided counsel and support and continue to do so.

In the service of “Bhagwan” and with all of His blessings to each and every one,

With Best Regards,

The Executive Committee
